Sessions stated that he had been offered money to vote for Depew.

[illegible] offered a concurrent resolution for final adjournment on the [illegible] tabled under rule.

The chair announced the following as a committee [illegible] bribery investigation: [illegible] Boardman, [illegible] Skinner, [illegible] Draper.

The Investigation.

In the investigation of bribery charges, Assemblyman Sessions testified that one Edwards had approached him last January and in this canvass in favor of Depew, and had offered to pay campaign expenses, but no money was [illegible]

Assemblyman Bradley testified that he had met Senator Sessions, who said, "Can I talk to you?" Witness said "Yes." Sessions said, "I can get you $[illegible] to put in your vest pocket if you will vote for Chauncey M. Depew to-morrow." Witness said "No," and started off. He then said that he would [illegible] stairs and see what was the best thing we could do. "We met again in my room with locked doors."

Sessions went on to say that it would be [illegible] if we all from that district voted for the same man. He said he had $[illegible] give me if I would vote for Depew, and $[illegible] if Depew is elected. I took the money he counted. He said: "This is away down deep in the well." I said, "Yes, down deep in the well." I went down to the Delavan house. I [illegible] over the matter and my first thought was [illegible] the money out and see others what I got to vote for Depew," but I thought it was not best [illegible] keep the money over night, so I went [illegible] Speaker Sharpe and told him what had taken place and gave him the money. I did not [illegible] receiving the money when offered. The [illegible] was $2000, which I refused. [illegible]

THE STATE FAIR.

President Wilkins Makes a Plea for Salem.

To the Editor of the [illegible]

I wish to make a few remarks [illegible] of the State Agricultural society and the [illegible]

This society has been a permanent institution [illegible] twenty years, acting under a constitution [illegible] laws, with officers selected from different [illegible] and is meeting for transaction of business [illegible] the second [illegible] in November each year. At the November meeting [illegible] board of directors, being encouraged by the [illegible] [illegible] holding the fairs [illegible] decided to make a change to the last of June and [illegible] the Fourth of July. This was tried last year and proved unsatisfactory to the managers, so that [illegible] they were not [illegible] trying it [illegible] at the same season.

Now, Mr. Editor, it is well known to every business man [illegible] that it was owing to the financial condition of the society, to [illegible] from [illegible] of wet seasons at times of holding the fairs in the fall, but I am proud to say the society has a great deal to [illegible] that would pay its obligations and [illegible] it has never received one dollar from the state. It [illegible] and I have no fears of being contradicted when I say that our products, exhibited at our fair, are equal to any other state, and have [illegible] the thousands of strangers and foreigners who [illegible] for themselves and [illegible] good in making the advantages of our country known abroad.

Notwithstanding this, there seems to be petty jealousies and selfish motives on the part of [illegible] who [illegible] try to cripple the society. I have [illegible] at the [illegible] stated [illegible] the [illegible] that I considered [illegible] great [illegible] Now the business men of Portland can't afford to throw [illegible] in the way of the society, as it is one of the means by which [illegible] are stimulated [illegible]

Now, Mr. Editor, I am satisfied that the movers in this matter will say, "Oh! we are not opposing the state fair." But the farmers will form their own conclusions in this matter, and say "If you are not [illegible] why did you select the same day for the races that was selected by the state Agricultural society last November?" And, again, why is it that the leading newspapers of Portland for the last two months have published such glowing accounts of the splendid arrangements and large sums of money—$10,000 or $12,000—to be paid for trials of speed on the same days that had been selected last November by the Agricultural Society. In fact, there seem to have been more put [illegible] than was called for, as there never was any such a sum of money up as was claimed; at least the programme published does not show it.

It is all wrong that personal interests should come in to destroy the good that may be derived by the annual meetings of the agricultural fairs, where all classes of people ought to meet to interchange views, each laboring to advance the general interest, [illegible] union there is strength.

We have been urged by some to change the time of holding the Fair, but while we are ready to compromise where compromises are honorable, in this case I fail to see either honor or good to result from such a change of programme on our part. So far as I am [illegible] holding the fair is concerned, I have no [illegible] until our state is more densely populated, Salem is certainly the most central [illegible] and has a very desirable camp ground, while the Mechanics' Fair is equally well located in Portland, where it should be. M. WILKINS.

FRIDAY MORNING JUNE 10, 1881.

MONEY PLETHORA AND SPECULATION.

It is estimated by the statisticians that $200,000,000 will be paid into channels of circulation this year by the U. S. Treasury. The surplus revenue will supply about $50,000,000 of these payments, and the rest must come from the specie reserve. Importations of specie from abroad, and the output of domestic mines will aggregate an equal amount, so that fully $200,000,000 will be poured into the commercial channels of this country, the current year. The effect of this enormous addition to the money of the country is already apparent in a phenomenally easy money market for this season, an eager competition for safe investments, and a sharp rise of all securities speculative and standard. The first week in May the banks' reserve in New York city was $14,000,000 against $4,500,000 for the corresponding week last year, and the brokers' rate for money was 3 to 5 per cent. Now the rate has fallen to 2½ to 3½ per cent. But one of the most significant barometers of the financial condition of the country is the disposition of the people to invest in government securities. This disposition, which has been so noticeable of late, may have, says a writer on the subject, two natural and intelligible causes. It may arise from a sudden increase of the floating capital of the country, a congestion of cash in the money centers; a plethora of money in the banks or in the hands of capitalists, seeking immediate and secure investment at whatever rate. It may arise from a suspicious feeling on the part of those who control capital in large amounts, a premonition of an era of speculation which will unsettle values and disturb investments, a sense of imminent insecurity in investments apparently sound, and inclination on the part of conservative investors to shun the ordinary channels of finance, and seek security and small returns by purchases of government bonds. Both of these causes contribute to the present condition of the market. There is a plethora of money in the financial centers, and there are all the premonitory symptoms of one of these periodical epochs of wild speculation that shake the foundations of the soundest business investment and drive capital to shelter itself under the wing of goverumet credit. The abundance of money in Wall street arises from heavy importations of specie and heavy payments by the treasury. The arrivals of gold from abroad have not been so large this spring as last year, and have attracted little attention, but the amount has exceeded $25,000,000 since the 1st of January, and has reached nearly $100,000,000 since last August. These importations were checked before the 1st of May, by the return of bonds seeking reissue, but the current will soon set the other way, and the importations may be expected to begin again. On the other hand the payments from the treasury have been unusually large ever since the late refunding operations begun. The treasury payments in April, for interest and called bonds were $14,700,000, and for May about $21,000,000. Early in May the secretary began the payment of $5,750,000 May interest and the prepayment of some $16,000,000 of sixes falling due July 1, and not extended. The policy adopted in the case of the 5 per cents is also largely increasing the amount of money discharged from the treasury. There are also $70,000,000 of registered 5 per cent bonds to become payable July 1, besides those coupon bonds which shall not be presented for reissue before the 12th day of August.

The influence of the abundance of money in this great center of capital, Wall street, is already bearing fruit in the increasing speculative fever. During the first three weeks last month there was a rise in every prominent railway stock on the New York market, of from 10 to 30 per cent. For example: Alton & Terre Haute rose from 55½ to 69; Chicago & Alton from 134 to 145½; Northwestern from 122 to 133⅞; Illinois Central from 135¾ to 155⅞; Louisville and Nashville from 93 to 104; St. Paul from 112 to 126⅞, and Union Pacific from 116¾ to 128. The rise is in stocks of all classes, solid and speculative, grain and mineral roads. It arises from no temporary or isolated conditions, but general influence affecting the whole market. It will be most fortunate if the speculative fever which is raging now is confined to Wall street, as it was last year, and general business escapes. The tendency of conservative investors to seek safety for their money in government bonds is evidence of a distinct fear that the speculation of this season will not be so limited, but will affect general values.

A CHARGE OF "HERESY."

Some days since we had the announcement by telegraph that the general assembly of the Free Church of Scotland, had suspended Prof. Robertson Smith from his professorship in the college of Aberdeen, on account of his articles on the Bible, published in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, and his recent book on "The old testament in the Jewish Church." The case is one that has attracted unusual attention not because of any personal interest in Prof. Smith—though he is a scholar and thinker of wide reputation—but for the reason that the charge against him is virtually a charge of heretical teaching, based on the fact that his writings on the Bible are conceived and executed in the spirit of rational criticism. That is, he examines the Hebrew scriptures strictly on the literary and critical method. For instance, he gives his reasons for believing that the books of the pentateuch are of composite authorship, edited by one hand, perhaps, but written by many. Again, he says: "In the book of Job we find poetical invention of incidents attached for didactic purposes to a name apparently derived from old traditions. There is no valid reason for denying that the old testament may contain other examples of the same art. The book of Jonah is generally viewed as a case in point. Esther too, has been viewed as a fiction by many who are not over sceptical critics; but in this view a book which finds no recognition in the new testament, and whose cannonicity was long suspected by the christian as well as by the Jewish church, must sink to the rank of an apocryphal production." The scholarship by which these and other conclusions are sustained can not be refuted; and the only way it can be met is by a resolution declaring that "the general assembly no longer considers it safe or advantageous for the church that Prof. Smith should continue to teach in one of her colleges;" and he is suspended accordingly.

But Prof. Smith is by no means alone in his views, even among his own brethren. The vote of suspension was carried by 394 to 241. The minority is large enough to show the growth, even in orthodox circles, of the principle that the scriptures are to be examined and interpreted on the system pursued in the treatment of other literary records. From the conclusions reached through the established canons of criticism there is no escape, whether the subject of inquiry be one literature or another. For example, no doubt whatever remains among scholars that the books usually ascribed to Moses are derived from several [illegible] partly written and partly [illegible] together and [illegible] brought into their present form. To the eye of critical inquiry the processes of this work are entirely apparent. But the result depends on as free an examination of these writings as critical scholarship applies in dealing with the construction of the Homeric poems, and why should that [illegible] writings be [illegible] Scarcely [illegible] to the contrary notwithstanding, the fact will be denied, and if the name of Prof. Robertson Smith shall live, as it is likely to do, from the fruits of his remarkably acute scholarship, the church will probably be ashamed of [illegible] [illegible] that such strange [illegible] [illegible] have been adopted.

DEATH OF JOEL PALMER.

At 11 o'clock yesterday (Thursday, June 9, 1881), Gen. Joel Palmer died at his residence in Dayton, Yamhill county, aged 70 years.

Gen. Palmer was an early pioneer of Oregon, and was among the best-known of our old citizens. His parents were citizens of New York, but he was born in Canada during their temporary residence there. From New York he removed in early life to Indiana, where he lived a good many years, and where the enterprising spirit for which he was known through all his active life brought him into prominent notice. In 1844 he was a member of the Indiana legislature. While at Indianapolis attending to his duties, he chanced to fall upon a pamphlet which gave some account of Oregon. On his return home he told his family that he had made up his mind to see Oregon; and accordingly in the spring of 1845 he started overland, arriving in the fall of that year.

The country pleased him so well that next year he returned to Indiana, crossing the plains as before, resolved to bring out his family. Having completed his preparations he started back in the spring of 1847. A large emigration crossed the plains that year. Owing to his knowledge of the plains he was the recognized leader of the emigration. Among those who came in the company were the Geers and Judge Grim of Marion county, the Grahams, the Collards and Chris Taylor of Yamhill, and many others of our old and well known citizens. "Palmer's Guide," a book for information of persons crossing the plains, was used for a number of years by emigrants and was of no little service and value.

Arriving in Oregon, Gen. Palmer took up a land claim and laid off the town of Dayton. While he was at work on his cabin the Cayuse war broke out. Learning of the Whitman massacre he at once started for Oregon City to offer his services. He was chosen quartermaster and commissary general, and set off with his fellow pioneers to punish and subdue the Indians. His services secured him honorable recognition. After the war closed he returned to his home. He was often elected to one branch or the other of the legislature, and held for a term the position of superintendent of Indian affairs for Oregon. It was under his administration that the Indians of Western Oregon were gathered on the reservation which they still hold, and which was selected by him. In 1870 he was the republican candidate for governor of the state, but as the state was then democratic he was defeated, but only by a narrow majority.

In business enterprise he always bore a leading part and for thirty years was known as one of our most active and energetic citizens. He twice married. His second wife and seven children survive him, and his grand-children are very numerous.

Throughout his life he was known as a thoroughly honest man. His memory is a precious heritage to his family, and to the state of which he was one of the founders.

In the annual address before the pioneer association of Oregon, at the meeting in 1875, Judge Deady said of him: "Few men have labored harder or more disinterestedly for the public good than Gen. Joel Palmer. A man of ardent temperament, strong friendships, and full of hope and confidence in his fellow men, he has unreservedly given the flower of his life for the best interests of Oregon and of all the early pioneers it may be justly said of him, 'he deserves well of his country.'"

In the selection of candidates for the offices to be filled at the coming city election, several of those who are most earnestly seeking places on the ticket should be left. If, for instance, a man wants the office of city councilman and thinks a better man should not stand in his way, it is safe to assume that he is not working for the advancement of public interests but for some personal and selfish ends. A council selected because the members will pledge themselves beforehand to keep certain individuals in the city offices, or vote certain others into those offices, may be good men for the professional office-seekers, but they are bad for the people.

The city of Portland would do well to elect members of the common council, at the election now pending, who will not force dividends from street contracts, put money in their pockets for jobs in purchasing hose and fire engines, or confirm a chief of police who would make gambling houses and bagnios pay a tribute to himself for protection against the law. The city would find it profitable to protect itself against the men who seek unsalaried offices because they have made the discovery how to live on them and make money besides.

CITY.

THE MASONIC CONCERT.—The concert to be given next Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Masonic [illegible] will be the most brilliant concert of the season [illegible]. As besides our very best [illegible] the committee have succeeded in securing [illegible] services of Miss Sallie Lightner [illegible] of San Francisco, who on a former visit here [illegible]. This young lady, it will be remembered, shared the honors with Mrs. Marriner Campbell on [illegible] concert tour of the Reymon Marriner [illegible] company. Miss Josephine Wolfe, [illegible] from San Francisco and who [illegible] will make for Portland [illegible] already manifested [illegible]. Of the other singers we can only [illegible] are the best our city affords, and as the [illegible] of the concert is a most worthy one, we expect [illegible] the New Market theater crowded as it has seldom been. The committee have already disposed of a large number of tickets, and as the [illegible] A. M. Saturday the public should [illegible] accordingly.

THE ANNIVERSARY.—The St. Paul [illegible] May [illegible] contains the following [illegible] Mr. [illegible] Oakes, vice-president and manager of the [illegible] Railway & Navigation Co. [illegible] The northwest may well be congratulated upon the [illegible] of the Northern Pacific. Mr. Oakes [illegible] engagement is a guarantee that the work [illegible] will be pushed [illegible] experience and executive ability of the [illegible] combination is able to command. [illegible] of Mr. Oakes [illegible] energy [illegible] and will [illegible] faithful report of the necessities of the case and the resources of the command of the company. [illegible]

NEW ENGINE FOR [illegible].—A dispatch was [illegible] Sheriff Joseph Buchtel, agent for [illegible] the Silsby Manufacturing [illegible] Falls, New York, ordering a new [illegible] Multnomah Engine Co. No. 2. This [illegible] has been ordered by the members of No. [illegible] of class No. 4, nickel-plated, and will [illegible] the vicinity of $4000. Work will be [illegible] on the engine at once and she will be turned out of the shop in about forty days. Every modern improvement and appliance will be included in the make-up of the engine, and she will be a beauty and [illegible] mistake. The company will have an additional [illegible] for feeling proud of the engine from the fact that it will be paid for out of the company's treasury and will not cost the city a dollar.

EXCURSION AND ENTERTAINMENT.—Let all [illegible] remember the moonlight excursion [illegible] this evening under the auspices of the Young People's Association of the Baptist church. Extensive arrangements have been made and everything done to insure a pleasant and successful excursion. The steamer Washington will leave the foot of Morrison street at 8 o'clock sharp and will then touch at Dodd & Sibley's dock in East Portland, after which she will leave for Oregon City. Refreshments will be served on the boat and at the Baptist church. There will also be a musical and literary entertainment given at Oregon City in the [illegible] room of the Baptist church. Everybody [illegible]. Tickets can be procured at the boat.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS.—The M. E. church in East Portland has recently been greatly enlarged and improved. An extension of fifteen feet in length has been made to the body of the church and an addition in the shape of an L put on the west side, connected with the main audience room by folding doors, which altogether increases the sittings [illegible]. Fine new chandeliers and side lamps have been procured, the interior kalsomined and repainted, making the church look new and decidedly pleasant. The entire cost of the extension is about $[illegible].

CASE DECIDED.—The case of Manuel Hunter vs. the executors of the estate of Pierre Mancet occupied the time of the circuit court yesterday and the day before. The suit was to recover the price of the frescoing of the St. George Hotel of this city. The point at issue was as to whether the work was done in a manner or for its reasonable value. The case was warmly contested on both sides and a verdict rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $[illegible]. The plaintiff was represented by Stott & Killin and the estate was represented by Bell & Gregory.

THE READING CONTEST.—Yesterday morning and afternoon, the examination of pupils who were to compete for medals offered by Mayor D. P. [illegible] for the best reading, took place in Park school building before a committee consisting of [illegible] H. Atkinson, Mrs. C. A. Dolph, Col. [illegible] and Mr. H. W. Scott. Sixty of the scholars, [illegible] from Harrison street, 15 from North, 25 from [illegible] and 15 from High school, took part. The [illegible]. The examination will be continued, and the awards made to-day.

A SMALL ALARM.—Last evening persons living in the vicinity of Sixth and Main streets became alarmed at a pile of old lumber which was lying in the middle of the street, burning. Sparks were flying lively about, and it was feared the buildings were in danger. Willamette Engine Co. No. 1 was [illegible], and in a trice the engine was dying up [illegible] the wind behind the spurting [illegible]. The fire was put out in a few minutes, and [illegible] returned to the house. No alarm was sounded.

CHILDREN'S [illegible].—The new baptismal font at the Unitarian church was used for the first time last Sunday, ten children being presented for the service. The children of the Sunday school were present and the ceremony was extremely beautiful and impressive. A memorial of Mrs. Anna [illegible] in book form, containing the service and address at the funeral, January 6, 1881, was presented to the members at the communion service.

EXAMINATION FOR HISTORY PRIZES.—The candidates for this examination will assemble at the Park street building at 9 A. M. to-day (Friday), and will be expected to remain till 12. Professor Marsh, of Forest Grove, Capt. R. H. Lamson and Mrs. C. E. [illegible], of this city, form the committee of examination. About 30 applicants have already handed in their names and the competition will be no doubt a close one.

BISHOP HAVEN.—The P. C. Advocate says: "A telegram from Bishop Haven dated June 2, says he will start for Oregon on the steamer Columbia, June 15, and stop a day or two at Astoria and be at Salem by the evening of June 24, to lecture. After that he has no positive engagements except the conferences. He expects to be at the commencement of Willamette university."

DEATH OF AN OLD SETTLER.—On Sunday of last week John Caruthers died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Vancouver, of heart disease. He will be remembered by early residents as the man who started a ferry in opposition to James B. Stephens in 1852, had a number of lawsuits growing out of it, and a [illegible] fight with old man Frush, after which he left the town.

COAL DISCOVERED.—F. M. Saunol, of Wasco county, has laid on our table samples of coal taken from a ledge recently uncovered by him near the railway bridge on Five-Mile creek, in that county. It has the appearance of cannel coal and burns freely with a bright, steady flame. Should the discovery prove extensive, its accessibility will render it very valuable.

BAND CONTEST.—The Amity Brass Band has challenged the Lafayette Cornet Band for a contest of band music for any sum not less than $50. The time of the contest will be any time between the 10th day of June and the 1st day of July. The judges will be chosen by the leaders of the bands named above.

[illegible].—On Wednesday the little steamer Fleetwood, while steaming up the [illegible], broke one of the blades of her propeller. In consequence of this disablement, the boat will be compelled to discontinue regular trips between Portland and the Cascades until the 20th of June.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.—The Unitarian Sunday school picnic will come off Saturday, weather permitting. The boat leaves foot of Morrison street at 7:15 A. M., for Oregon City and picnic ground on the river. Tickets [illegible] cents, children 25. If it rains Friday the picnic will be postponed.

[illegible].—Sheriff Rodgers, of Wasco county, arrived here Wednesday evening, having in custody a prisoner named Daniel Naylor, en route to the penitentiary. Naylor was convicted of larceny and sentenced to the state's prison for one year.

[illegible].—County Assessor George C. Sears will visit St. Johns next Monday morning, and will [illegible] that day there and in that vicinity. He will [illegible] a number of blank statements to distribute, so [illegible] can look out for him.

MASONIC.—The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons meets this morning in Masonic Temple. A [illegible] of delegates from all parts of the state arrived last night. The Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. M. [illegible] here next Monday.

LICENSE ISSUED.—The county commissioners issued licenses yesterday to the following named persons residing in the Fulton precinct, to sell spirituous liquors: Calvin C. Crouch, Jim Moseney and [illegible].

[illegible].—Hon. C. P. Beattie, of Oregon [illegible] chairman of the democratic state central committee [illegible] still seriously ill. He is troubled periodically with hem[illegible] hages which leave him very weak.

[illegible].—In consequence of the unsettled state of the weather the excursion and picnic of the [illegible] has been postponed [illegible] advertisement.

MEETING OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Last evening an adjourned meeting of the executive committee, appointed to make arrangements for celebrating the coming Fourth of July, was held at the council chamber. Mayor D. P. Thompson, the chairman, sent his excuse, as he [illegible] attend the meeting.

Hon. W. S. Newbury was [illegible] chairman pro tem.

The records of the previous meeting were read and approved.

[illegible] was appropriated to be used by the committee on [illegible] for securing a [illegible] [illegible] be about [illegible] glass ball [illegible].

[illegible] was appointed to represent the [illegible] association [illegible].

The [illegible] committee [illegible] upon [illegible] what the nature of the prizes should be.

Mr. [illegible] was added to the committee to superintend the [illegible].

A [illegible] was added to the committee on [illegible].

The grand marshal reported that he had selected the plaza between Main and Madison for the [illegible] the block between Clay and Columbia and [illegible] of Eleventh streets for the fireworks. He also reported that Hon. Rowland Evans, of The Dalles, [illegible] the invitation to deliver the oration.

Meeting adjourned until next Tuesday evening.

P. R. A. REGATTA.

Interesting sport promised for next Saturday—Four oared and double scull races.

According to the programme of the organization, the Portland Rowing Association will hold their annual regatta next Saturday evening, commencing at [illegible]. The course will be from the foot of [illegible] street to the water works and return. The first race will be between pleasure boats [illegible]. The second will be [illegible] straight away, between the Tyee, Coffee stroke, and Ferrar, bow; and the "St. Nancy," Tobey stroke, and Paxton bow. The third race will be between the paper [illegible] and the cedar four oars [illegible]. The crews are as follows:

Paper—H. [illegible] stroke; Strattan 3; R. E. Jones 2; Hon. [illegible] bow.

Cedar—F. Bunton stroke; W. [illegible] 3; [illegible] 2; C. McAuley bow.

The latter crew is [illegible] of a boat [illegible] by the paper boat, and will make a [illegible] to win [illegible]. The crews are well matched, and a close race is predicted.

After the race, the [illegible] will go [illegible] winning crew.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

In the U. S. circuit court the case of the Bank of British Columbia vs George Marshall, [illegible] was submitted to the jury a few minutes after 11 o'clock A. M. Before retiring, Judge Deady handed the foreman of the jury a sheet of paper which contained the following:

The jury are directed in addition to the general verdict, directed to be found for the plaintiff, to find:

Whether the plaintiff was guilty of negligence in relation to the care and custody of the wheat described in the receipts delivered to the defendants, which was damaged or destroyed by the flood as shown by the evidence.

To this the jury returned the following answer: "No."

At 4 o'clock P. M. the jury came in with the following verdict:

We, the jury, find for the plaintiff in the sum of $[illegible],518.18, with 1 per cent interest from Feb. 25, 1881.

[illegible] CUNNIFF, Foreman.

W. C. T. UNION.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a temperance mass meeting in the Congregational church on Tuesday evening as per announcement. The address by Rev. Cruzan was excellent, being plain, pointed and easily understood. It should awaken new interest in the minds of those who heard it on the great subject of temperance, so important to all, affecting as it does the whole human family. Miss Alice Clawson's essay was well read, and was full of instructive information concerning the workings of the W. C. T. Union in the east; also it was an earnest appeal to the friends and workers of the temperance cause in Oregon to go and do likewise. The singing by Mrs. Cruzan and Miss Biggs was good. The Union proposes to hold a temperance mass meeting every month.

MRS. MACKAY'S NEW DRESS.

At last Mrs. Mackay is to have a new dress. The news has been telegraphed to all parts of the country, and every loyal heart rejoices. The wife of the famous millionaire can at last mingle in Parisian society; she is no longer like Flora McFlimsey; she at last has something to wear. It is dampening, however, to know that the dress is only a second hand one, made by Worth for the Empress Eugenie, and thrown upon his hands because it didn't fit. It is very neatly returned.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY EVENING, June [illegible].

The local wheat market has been so dull during the past week that we can hardly be said to have a market. A few lots of wheat have been sold at $1 [illegible] per cental, but these sales have been accidental and casual, and generally from one shipper to another. Holders hope for better prices without any special ground for hope and decline to sell. It is a repetition of the course pursued last fall. Then farmers held so tightly that shippers were afraid to engage vessels to come here, and the result was a dead lock for many weeks and dullness up to the present time. Now vessels could be chartered for loading within a few weeks but shippers are not make engagements.

There have been [illegible] spot charters since last week. A little British bark, the Ethel, registering just above four hundred tons, is in port and in the market at 85s for Liverpool direct. It is reported that she has been offered 83s 6d, but this is doubtful.

If the weather continues favorable for grain crops the yield of wheat in the Willamette valley this season will be larger than ever before. The acreage is about the same as last year, and the yield will be much better. The rains of the past two weeks were just what were wanted. Practical farmers think there is no danger from rust. The hay crop will be enormous, and prices will be low next year. This crop has been so profitable for the past two or three years that many farmers in Washington, Yamhill, and other counties accessible to the Portland market, have put much of their land in timothy. Failure of the river hay crop, which it is thought will result from failure of the usual June overflow, will afford an extra market this year which may absorb the extraordinary yield, and help maintain prices.

There is nothing new to report from the salmon canneries on the Columbia. The catch during the past week has averaged about sixteen to the boat. Not more than half the boats on the river are in service.

Since our last report the wool market has been very active, and transactions have been large. At the opening of the season buyers are not inclined to operate in other than choicest wools; but during the past week much of the heavier and coarser wools have found buyers at such prices as have, as a rule, proved satisfactory to owners.

Wools from Eastern Oregon and Washington are coming forward faster than last year, and the indications are that the season will be sooner over than former seasons. Valley wools are lying marketed at the various shipping points along the railroad but as yet few lots have reached this market.

Sales of Eastern Oregon for the past week would probably aggregate 300,000 lbs at from 18 to [illegible]. We quote valley at 20@25.

Home Produce Market.

Oats are scarce and in good demand. Prospects point to higher prices before long. It is reported that the California crop is affected by rust, which will materially reduce the product there. Prospects are favorable for a good yield in Oregon. Flour as before: large stocks and slow sale. Mill feed continues to weaken, bran specially being [illegible] sale. It can be bought in large lots for $8 50 per ton. Receipts of hay during the past week have been very large and we look for a marked decline before long. Fancy fresh roll butter is in very good demand. Country store butter is cheaper. We think that butter will not be so high next winter as last, owing to the fact that most dairymen here and in California are packing and holding for higher prices, and the product promises to be much larger this year than last. The reason for this is that the Columbia bottoms, where most of the fine Oregon butter is made, will afford fine pasturage for a much longer season this year than usual, owing to failure of the usual spring overflow. We would advise dairymen to use none but Ashton's salt, as it is cleaner and freer from impurities than any other, and butter made from it keeps longer and brings a better price in the market. Chickens are free at last week's quotations. Ducks are scarce and wanted. Dried fruits continue to drag along with slow sale, owing to the fact of there being no export demand at the prices that are asked by holders. Dried plums are a drug on the market, can hardly be sold at any price. Miller's plums, the finest brought to this market, which usually bring 16@18c, were offered for the last week, but found no buyers even at that figure. Bacon, hams and shoulders are firm and steady at quotations. Salmon in half barrels is scarce and wanted. Receipts of old potatoes have fallen off somewhat, and the demand is slightly better. [illegible] of potatoes will be large this year, due to the failure of the June flood. There is very little demand for timothy seed. Hides are firm. Receipts of eggs have fallen off during the past week and the price is well sustained. Country merchants should not make a practice of holding eggs too long, as it injures their brands. Eggs are generally ordered of commission men here by brand, and a good name is often in demand when unknown or doubtful [illegible] of sale. Cheese is coming in quite freely and the price is lower.

FLOUR—Quotations for round lots $4 25 for standard, $4 75@5 for good country brands.

OATS—Quote $1 45@1 40; feed, $1 25@1 30.

HAY—Baled timothy, $16@18 ℔ ton.

MARK LANE REPORT.

English Crops Benefited by Showers—Review of the Grain Market Last Week.

LONDON, June 6.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the grain trade for the past week, says: Wheat made a strong and healthy growth under last week's brilliant summer weather. All other crops were retarded by thunder showers. The steady rain Sunday and throughout the night will greatly help all crops. Native samples are scarce at all provincial exchanges. Probably very little of the last crop remains to be marketed. Nevertheless an attempt to obtain improved prices utterly failed, and Friday a reduction had to be accepted to effect sales. English flour unchanged, but business slow and unremunerative. Barley, oats and peas, unchanged. Foreign breadstuffs have grown steadily weaker. Friday most wheats were cheaper. The supply received in the port of London was only 49,000 qrs, all Australian and Indian except 1000 qrs, which was Canadian. Of flour there were small receipts, but the market is steady [illegible]. Twenty wheat cargoes arrived at ports of call, at which eight cargoes were sold. Thirty cargoes are due this week. Maize is in short supply, but weaker. Barley is steady and unchanged. Oats, 6d cheaper. Sales of English wheat during the week, 26,197 qrs at 41s 10d per qr, against 27,867 qrs at 43s 7d per qr for the corresponding week of last year.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Review of the Merchandise Markets, Specially Reported and Telegraphed to "The Oregonian."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Aside from some interesting wagers made on change regarding rates of freight on exports of wheat in the early months of the new season, there is little to report. The situation all around is unchanged. There is a trifle firmer feeling in wheat abroad, a lull in inquiry for tonnage here, and fair den[illegible] and for choice wheat is reported, but nothing has been accomplished worthy of special notice.

Rainfall during the present month is one of the curious features. Usually the dry season commences in May, and certainly for the past six or seven years rain has never fallen in sufficient quantities to be noticeable, two or three hundredths of an inch being the extent for June. During this month to date nearly three-tenths of an inch has fallen, several heavy showers having occurred which were general throughout the state. Had they come a month or six weeks earlier the result would have been entirely favorable. As it is, some little injury has been done the hay crop, but from telegraphic reports received from all points yesterday, it seems that grain is uninjured. The late crops, indeed, will be benefited, while it is claimed in some sections that rust has been checked by the rain, which, if correct, is decidedly favorable to producers. Rain in Shasta county is always heavy. An inch fell there on the 7th, making the total for the season 109 6-10ths inches, or over 9 feet, which certainly would seem to insure sufficient moisture for that section. As a whole, reports from the interior are favorable, and a large crop of fine wheat will be the result of the year's work.

King of the Blood

Is not a "cure all," it is a blood purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, Impurity of the Blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists, $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.
